Welcome, we're glad you're here!

The Upper Krust is the reality of many hopes, dreams and prayers. Donna and Sue Kurschner (mother and daughter) would like to welcome you and would like you to feel at home! Drink in the wonderful aromas of yesteryear's old fashioned cooking while you are here and enjoy memories of Grandma's! (when all the ingredients were farm fresh!)

Donna and Sue have always loved to serve big crowds and it shows! After all, Sue is one of Donna's eight children! These women have always been busy serving! Donna's love of making mud pies as a child (and cooking for her large family) and Sue's talent for hospitality and experience with catering, plus a little push to get started resulted in a great benefit for all of Watertown!

If you visit The Octagon House, another important icon of Watertown, you will learn all about how the phrase "Upper Crust" came into being. Next to their large hearth side ovens, the museum curators explain how sometimes the bottom of the bread would be too well done or have too much ash residue baked into the crust. Household servants would trim off the crispy parts and served the best part. It didn't take long for the wealthy people to be referred to as the "Upper Crust" of society because of their preference for the best of everything.

We want you to know that we use only the best of everything in serving you, our Upper Krust guests! Please enjoy Donna and Sue's tried and true favorite recipes as much as they enjoy serving them to you. Sit back, enjoy your visit, and come back and see us often! The Lord's Blessings to you!
